

The Value of Shooting

The economic, environmental and social impact of shooting in the UK

Habitat management and conservation are carried out on

7.6m

hectares as a result of shooting

620,000

individuals are actively involved in shooting-related activities

Shooting is worth £3.3bn annually to the UK economy (GVA)

Shooters spend £4.4bn on their UK-based supply chain each year

Shooting generates £9.3bn of wider economic activity in the UK economy

Shooting activities generate the equivalent of 67,000 full-time jobs

Shooting providers and volunteers carry out conservation work to the value of

£500m

equivalent to 26,000 full-time jobs and 14 million workdays each year

Half of shooting providers create or maintain cover for game and wildlife and/or feed songbirds over the winter gap

293,000

people are involved in game shooting

Three out of four people who take part in shooting say that it is important to them and their personal wellbeing

valueofshooting.co.uk